Some people live by a
mantra that says:

"Happiness is just around the corner."

I waste so much time trying to figure out which corner
they mean!

They left out the part about how Happiness is, like, super fast and hard to catch.

But, if you just kind of let things be, and don't worry too much about how to catch it_

sometimes it
comes to you
on its own.
